CORRESPONDENCE

"CONSCRIPTION"

(To the Editor of the "China Mail.")

Dear Sir—Your correspondent "Had Some" expresses with cogency and correctness the feelings of most ex-servicemen who have succeeded in emerging from the maelstrom of British militarism with their reflective powers not wholly impaired. His indictment of the "Spit and Polish" parades reminds me of two instances of "Spit and Polish" idiosyncrasy which will move your readers less to laughter than to tears. I came across them recently whilst reading a war narrative and they are so amusingly illustrative that your readers will doubtless appreciate their reproduction at length. Speaking of a South-Eastern and Chatham Railway engine which caused much side-splitting in Aras Railway Station, the author states:

"It was one mass of bright paint and glittering steel and brass, looking as if it had just taken first prize at a Railway Exhibition at Olympia. Everything from the brass fittings to the rivets and steelwork looked as if it had been cleaned for a week on end and the shining dome alone was enough to attract half a dozen aeroplane from afar. Nothing could have been more inappropriate in the yard of a station five miles from the enemy, a station where the buildings were shattered and scarcely a pane of glass remained in the roof. A filthy old French engine puffed alongside about the same time, the grimy driver of which gazed at the show-piece with as much amusement as ourselves."

"Say, that's the way to win the War," shouted Jones. "Who pays for your Brass?"

"But the British engine-driver merely grinned. It was only another form of the same lunacy—"Spit and Polish" in the Railway Operating Department!"

The other instance refers to a certain Divisional Horse Show held near Bapsome. The author writes: "This brought 'Spit and Polish' to a stage where it and I definitely parted company. The frantic polishing efforts at Magnicourt La Gorgue and Agnes were quite sane by comparison with the exhibition which we got now. This was really the maximum effort yet made by the Authorities to win the War (for presumably it was intended to assist towards that end, otherwise the energy expended could well have been diverted to more useful channels, such as digging lines of defence). The strength of our feeling over the matter may be gauged from the following letter—26/3/17." There are several competitions for various kinds of horses and mules in limbers, cookers, etc. all with harness. We sent in two or three entries to-day but none of them got anything. You simply can't imagine the extreme lengths of idiosyncrasy to which the polishing-up crew will go. For weeks certain men, mostly details, have been engaged in painting vehicles and burnishing all possible bright parts, polishing screws, whitening cords and drag-ropes, burnishing brakes and the rims of the wheels and shining up brass hubs, until the whole turnout makes you almost shed tears of rage at the waste of energy, time, labour and money, not to mention material. Things have come to a pass when men file brakes, swivels and hooks for days, clean them with emerycloth, finish them off with Flinax and keep them carefully wrapped up each night. The very same and above have been painted for the occasion, while the cookers and limbers have a burnished knob and stem! Then you go in the Show with dozens of other equally manual turnouts and perhaps get "turned down" straightaway because your horses are a bit too 'heavy' for that particular entry. Brown went in for the competition and I was glad to see he didn't go off over his stuff. It was nice and clean—as respectable as possible without going "poshing mad"—but he took quite a back seat. This takes place a few miles from the firing line. And people wonder why we are so slow in winning the War!

Of course, the burnished coal-overs simply delighted the judges. The Staff Officers chortled with glee over the new paint, the bright lids and the whitewashed rope on the prize cooker, and though other vehicles approached this in drivelling idiosyncrasy the burnished poker carried the day. I'm thankful this took place in uninhabited regions so that there were no French soldiers or civilians there to see it."

Local Volunteer fairs will probably hold that there is no red tape in the H.K.V.D.C., that drills are negligible and that we are staying at a bogey. In that case they need to be told that there is no guarantee that with a change of Commandant they will not be gingered up, there is no guarantee that it may not be found "necessary" to increase the parades. In any case military discipline is no less obnoxious because it is dolled out in small doses; in any case there would be footing parades on ceremonial occasions.

In conclusion, I would like to echo Roderick Random's comment in the Daily Press in connection with the idea of conscripting an unenfranchised British Community, which idea was undoubtedly present in the mind of His Excellency, the Officer Administering the Government, when speaking at the Volunteer "smoker." It is indeed surprising that a Government which seeks so much assistance from the local British Community should yet show so little sympathy with the 1500 signatories to the recent Petition for enfranchisement and reform of the constitution.

Yours faithfully,
"HAD ENOUGH"

AND EVEN YET WE ARE YOT IN THE JOKE.

(To the Editor of the "China Mail.")

Dear Sir—With regard to the rumour mentioned by your correspondent, "Charcoal" I heard quite a different yarn about the same subject. It seems that just about the time the "godown" deal was to be completed the night watchman one night suddenly discovered oil coming out under the doorway. This information got around very quickly with the help of one or two interested parties and the Company had to close the deal for the godown at an increase of something like $3,000, more than the original price. I also heard that the ordering of drilling machines etc., is in the hands of a very "prominent" member of the Company, so we might yet hear of some good developments shortly.

Yours faithfully,
O.L.V.

PARTNERSHIP ISSUE

FALSE DECLARATION ALLEGED.

Before Mr. R. W. Hamilton at the Magistracy, yesterday afternoon, a Chinese named Fung Yan-sam, living at No. 53, Bonham Street, was charged with having made a false declaration before Mr. C. D. Malbourne, Commissioner of Oaths, at the Supreme Court.

The Crown Solicitor, Mr. H. K. Holmes, prosecuted, and Mr. Leo Longinotto defended.

The false declaration is alleged to have been made by the defendant in a Common Law action in which Mr. A. J. Murray sued Messrs Walter Ford & Co., and Fung Yan-sam, (defendant) said to be a partner in the firm, for a sum of money on a promissory note. The defendant is alleged to have stated in a written declaration: "I deny that I am a partner in such defendant firm or that I was a partner therein at the time of the action; or that I ever was a partner."

In consequence of a statement put in later by Mr. C. H. Lyon, solicitor, the defendant made another declaration admitting that the signature at the bottom of the partnership agreement of the firm was his but that he could not remember signing it.

Mr. H. A. Nibbel, Registrar of the Supreme Court, proved that the first declaration was filed on October 28, 1921 and the second on November 2, 1921. On account of the defendant's first declaration, judgment, which in the ordinary course would have been delivered on October 28, 1921, was deferred for a week.

By Mr. Longinotto: The partnership agreement was dated a blank date in December, 1915. The defendant had also stated that since

"NOT ALL THERE"

Bank Agents were charged before Mr. F. W. Hamilton, this morning, with having failed to return to the House of Deputies on June 15.

Defendant: I didn't go. I was sick and could not stay there. I was absent for a week.

Mr. Francis, Superintendent of the Jail, said that the defendant was always going to and from the House and Jail. He was not sure that the defendant was mentally sound. The jail doctor seemed to agree that Aquino was not "all there" in his mind.

Magistrate: Has he been examined by two doctors?—Not in conjunction, but he has been examined by a good many doctors from time to time. It is a pity to let him go to and fro like that. Besides, he is a nuisance both in the House and the Jail.

The Magistrate ordered the defendant to return to the House, and gave instructions that he be examined by the doctors.

signing the agreement he had never received any report or dividend from the firm.

Li Fook-tan, a clerk employed by Messrs. Wilkinson and Grant, solicitors, testified that he interpreted the original partnership agreement to the defendant, and to make sure that the defendant knew what he was signing, the witness rendered the name "Walter Ford and Co." into Chinese as follows: "Yan Cheung Yung Hong." The defendant made it quite clear to the witness then that he was a partner of the firm.

The case was adjourned for a week, bail being allowed in the sum of $4,000.

The TELEPHONE HANDBOOK has met a want which has long been felt amongst users of the Telephone, as it provides an easy means of ascertaining the name of the Subscriber without the necessity of a search through the ordinary alphabetical directory.

The TELEPHONE HANDBOOK costs $1 per copy and is sold on the strict understanding that on the publication of a new one the old one will be returned to the publishers. This proviso is made in the interests of Subscribers in view of the frequent changes that take place.

THE THIRD SUNDAY AFTER TRINITY.

Interest has been aroused among some readers of Church Notes concerning the paragraph about bullfighting in last Saturday's issue. Some apparently wonder why Anglicans should bother about such things while some Roman Catholic countries condone such practices and look upon them as the proper sport for Sundays. It is well known that the matador bears blood and makes his confession before the bullfight, and a priest is in attendance to administer the last Sacraments to any who may be mortally injured in the ring. As a matter of fact the Roman Church officially set her face against such cruel practices long ago. For this I translated, set and typed the enclosed article from the London Standard of 1904.

Blessed Sacrament, in memory of those who fell in the War. It is situated in the north end of the East Aisle and has been designed with great care, so as to blend with the decorations of the other parts of the Church.

It is a drama of passion. Concha Perez, the daughter of a cigarette maker of Seville, is fascinating and has many lovers, but with her men are puppeteers. She is loved for a while, then discarded. Seeing her dancing at a party, she is loved by a man who is a puppeteer.

Millionaire son of a New York multi-millionaire. He reports that he shot and killed a blackmailer.

Assistant City Marshal at Inglewood, Cal., who routed single-handed a Klu Klux gang in a pistol duel, was given a gold medal by an admiring populace, and then lost his job.

Man of Good.

Died of septic pneumonia. Wife axes on ground of medical negligence.

Looks sweet enough but has a violent temper. She is of Venice.

Lost $12,000 at dice. Safer to razzle-dazzle for cigars.

His voice is in the heart of a band in Germany.

Police Commissioner of New York.

Film actress attacked in her home by a man said to be a fanatic. He said he had been hired to kill her.

A famous New York actress years ago. Now blind.

President of the American Legion of Private Soldiers and Sailors now under arrest.

An ardent prohibitionist, who smashed up $12,000 worth of liquor with a golf club.

An excellent picture, recently made.
